

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS – BOLETIM DE CONJUNTURA JOURNAL (BOCA) RULES AND PROCEDURES

Submissions are now open for article publication in the Boca Journal. We invite basic and higher education teachers, graduate students, researchers, and specialists to contribute their work. Undergraduate students may submit supervised articles, provided the supervising professor takes responsibility. Co-authored works are accepted as long as one of the authors assumes responsibility at the time of submission.

Publication Guidelines

Articles will be evaluated by the Editorial Board in accordance with ABNT standards for Portuguese-language articles and APA standards for international articles. Evaluation criteria include theoretical consistency, relevance, and originality. The content of submitted works is the sole responsibility of their respective authors.

Only accepted articles will be published in the Boca Journal. Texts may be submitted in Portuguese, Spanish, or English. Approved articles will be published in the original submission language; the journal does not provide translation services.

General Information for Submission

Manuscripts must be submitted in Word format.

The author declares authorization for publication, and all co-authors are aware of and agree to the publication. The article is original, except for cited elements for which proper permissions have been obtained. Boca Journal reserves the right to make the work available online and to index it in appropriate databases.
